Manage Your Organization

As an organization administrator, you can modify a number of settings within your organization, such as name of the organization, email settings, domain settings, and so on.