Teams Enterprise Voice - Yealink Handsets

Yealink burst out of the gate adding a physical dimension to the cloud-based collaboration services of Microsoft Teams. This allows end users to use these collaborative services as simply as making a phone call. This powerful combination of Yealink's innovative hardware and Microsoft's cloud collaboration services will enhance the productivity of almost any business.

Features

Some of the Teams collaboration features that these Yealink phones can leverage include:

- Presence integration – Microsoft Teams presence information can be displayed and integrated into the functionality of the device
- Calendar integration – Outlook calendar can be synced with the phone to display reminders and disallow appointment overlaps
- Corporate directory and contact picture integration – A single centralized database is used for the corporate directory that appears on the phone screen itself, including contact pictures of the calling or called parties
- Meeting call controls – Features such as one-click join for phone or video conferencing meetings, meeting call controls, meeting details, and scheduling of team meetings can all be done from the interface of the phone

NOTE: SIP phones are not compatible with Direct Routing. This is an industry-wide challenge. The Teams-enabled phones need better CPU and RAM to run the Android O/S which is running the Microsoft Teams application on the phone, thus only Teams-Enabled Devices are compatible with our Evolve Teams Enterprise Voice solution.
